Lots of Fun? Sure, So He Tried It—Clothes and All

NEW HURRICANE SEEN IN TROPICS

Second Gale Reported
Off Lesser Antilles;
First Turns Out to Sea

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 31 (P)—North-east storm warnings were hoisted over a 200 mile area in the Lesser Antilles today as storm flags along the North Carolina coast came down.

In an advisory distributed by the Federal storm warning service here, the new tropical storm was pinpointed about 50 miles east of St. Lucia, or about 1800 miles southeast of Florida.

The red and black warning flags were ordered up from Pointe-A-Pitre, on Guadeloupe island, south of St. Lucia.

Meanwhile, the first tropical hurricane of the "season" continued its retreat to the open sea after skirting the North Carolina coastline for the past two days.

A THIRD AREA of "suspicion" was reported in the Gulf of Mexico some 150 miles east of Brownsville, Texas, but the third trouble spot has not developed into a regular tropical storm.

The weather station at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said the new storm is moving westward toward the Caribbean at about 10 to 14 miles an hour. Winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour cover a small area near the center. (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Community Chest Drive Slated to Open Oct. 19

Pottstown's 1948 Community Chest campaign will open Oct. 19, a close 10 days later, it was decided yesterday at a board of directors meeting.

The annual campaign will open with a combined civic club dinner, followed by three report luncheons, one each on Oct. 22, Oct. 26 and Oct. 29.

Elmer E. Saylor, chairman of the committee on hospital allocations, saw his resolution adopted which provided Community Chest funds to the Pottstown hospitals be divided according to their bed capacity and their budgets be presented for inspection by the budget committee.

Street Parking Ban in Effect, But Signs Are Yet to Arrive

For the past ten days, parking on North Charlotte street from High to Beech streets has been banned officially by law. But, for the past ten days, for all the good it has done, the law might never have been passed. Parking along the narrow thoroughfare is the same as it was before the final reading of the prohibiting ordinance at the August meeting of borough council.

The "no parking" ban was sought editorially by The Mercury after a series of accidents during the past Winter was climaxed by an accident in which a four-year-old girl was injured seriously the past April 20.

With the opening of St. Aloysius Parochial school today, and of the Pottstown schools next Wednesday, it was feared a repetition of the past April's accident might occur.

THE ORDINANCE banning parking on the street was introduced at the June meeting of borough council, following several meetings of the police committee which attempted to fit it into an overall traffic plan for Pottstown.

It was passed Aug. 9, approved Aug. 10, and became effective Aug. 22, ten days after publication.

Yesterday, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears said "no parking" signs, which were ordered for the four-block stretch of road on Aug. 16, had not been received.

The signs were part of a large order which included special signs for Beech street, plus a number of extra signs to cover future parking bans.

In an effort to have the street posted as soon as possible, Sears called an agent of the manufacturing company to request at least enough signs to cover North Charlotte street.

There are enough poles on hand on which to mount the signs as soon as they are received, he added.

IN ANSWER TO a suggestion that temporary signs be posted until the (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Andrei A. Zhdanov, Leading Candidate For Stalin Job, Dies

LONDON, Aug. 31 (P)—Moscow announced tonight the death of Andrei A. Zhdanov, a leading contender in the behind-the-scenes rivalry for the job that Prime Minister Stalin must one day lay down.

Zhdanov died this afternoon after a serious illness, an official Moscow broadcast said.

Zhdanov, 52, was secretary of the central committee of the Communist party. He was a major force in the cominform's sensational attack of two months ago on Marshal Tito.

He, along with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and L. P. Beria, for (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Zhdanov Death Removes Arch Foe Of Marshall Plan to Help Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (P)—U. S. diplomatic authorities wondered today if the sudden death of Soviet Col. Gen. Andrei Alexandrovich Zhdanov would affect the course of the postwar struggle between Russia and the West.

Next to Stalin himself, Zhdanov was the outstanding arbiter of the Soviet "party line." He was accepted as being chiefly responsible for:

1. Reviving the cominform and lining up the Soviet bloc against the Marshall plan;
2. Moscow's split with Yugoslav Marshal Tito; and
3. The purge of Soviet art and

POTTSTOWN GIRL ILL; DIAGNOSED AS POLIO CASE

Paralysis Affects Throat;
Second Royersford Boy In Two-Weeks Stricken

Stricken with an unusual type of infantile paralysis which affects the throat muscles, Ruth Helen Slavek, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Slavek, 1145 Queen street, was rushed to Montgomery County hospital, Norristown, yesterday afternoon.

A milder case of polio, contracted by Ronald Haines, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haines, 860 Church street, resulted in the boy being sent to Phoenixville hospital last night.

He was the second Royersford lad to be taken ill with infantile paralysis. Anson Fry, 443 Main street, Royersford, was admitted to the same hospital the past Aug. 13.

In the case of the borough girl, the first indications of the disease were noticed when the child became ill Sunday.

Yesterday morning her physician, Dr. George M. Longaker Jr., had Ruth taken to the Pottstown hospital when she experienced difficulty in swallowing. A tapping of spinal fluid revealed she was suffering from infantile paralysis.

DR. LONGAKER SAID yesterday the youngster was taken to the Montgomery County hospital for observation. There is no special treatment for this type of polio, he said, but the Norristown institution is more completely equipped to handle paralysis cases.

The only polio case in the isolation ward of the hospital, Ruth will be under the care of Dr. Thomas Kockendorfer, Norristown and Philadelphia pediatrician.

Ruth's case was reported to Health Officer Benjamin C. Steele by Dr. Longaker while the Norristown board of health and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis were notified by the hospital.

Hospital authorities reported late yesterday afternoon that the National Foundation takes charge of all polio cases. If it becomes necessary, the group will provide special nurses trained in the Sister Kenny method of infantile paralysis treatment to care for the little girl.

NEITHER MR. OR MRS. Slavek could give Dr. Longaker any clue to a possible source of infection where their daughter may have contracted the disease. The youngster had not been swimming, to the movies, or in any crowded places, the three commonly accepted sources of infection.

Meanwhile, they are keeping another daughter, four-year-old Kathleen, under close observation. She will be watched constantly for the next ten days.

A check of the area will be made today by Steele. Last night, however, Dr. Ralph H. Merkel, (Continued on Page Fourteen)

291 Men Registered For Draft in Day

Two hundred ninety-one men were registered by the Pottstown draft board yesterday.

R. Ross Longaker, board clerk, commented, "It's going very smoothly, but added that some men are coming to borough hall council chambers after closing hours."

Draft board volunteer workers will be on hand, he pointed out, from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Today, men born in 1923 are required to be registered in borough hall.

The next step in getting draftees into service will be the filling out of questionnaires.

These will be mailed beginning Tuesday, Sept. 7. They will go first to single men, married men without children, and non-veterans.

Eventually, however, all registrants will receive them.

Men will fill out the questionnaires themselves and mail them back to their draft board.

Norco Man's Wild Steer Still Roaming the Range

The owner of the 800-pound steer that romped on High street early Sunday and then galloped away reported last night that he has received no word whatsoever about his animal.

But Henry Lang, who lives in North Coventry near Schuylkill road, said he still was looking for the steer—one of four to break from his pasture three months ago, with the others being recaptured or shot by him.

Meanwhile, there remained two possibilities. Either Lang owns the hideout here in the world, or there has been foul play by some steak-stealing resident.

In any case, Lang has a beef coming.

New Evidence Added To Wentzel Defense

Murder Time Element Disputed by Affidavits

By FRED SELBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Attorneys for Gerald C. Wentzel yesterday landed two ringing hammer blows on the middle link in the chain of evidence that convicted the Kenilworth man—the State's contention that Mrs. Miriam F. Green was murdered on a Sunday night.

Gathered by Paul Kleinspehn, mild-seeming Boyertown detective, the surprising new evidence consists of signed, sworn, witnessed, detailed statements from two Pottstown men who saw Mrs. Green's body shortly after it was found Monday, Dec. 9, 1945.

Their statements express the opinion that Mrs. Green may have been strangled on either the preceding Friday or Saturday, when Wentzel was on a hunting trip 100 miles from her Chestnut street apartment.

The two affidavits will be filed today with the Pennsylvania Supreme court as "additional reasons" for allowing Wentzel's co-attorneys, W. H. Rosenberg Jr. and Ernest E. Heim, to reargue their appeal before the high court.

After the petition is filed, Wentzel's attorneys can only wait until the day when the Supreme court decides whether it will allow a second argument of the appeal before it.

Early this Summer, the court upheld Wentzel's conviction for second-degree murder by a 5-4 decision, with Chief Justice George W. Mahey writing a stinging minority opinion.

THE ECHO FROM the new blows at the Commonwealth's conviction is expected to cause a furore in both Pottstown's borough hall and in the Montgomery County court-house, since the affidavits contained these disclosures:

1. John Wojack, of the Merchants A. hotel, Good Will ambulance driver who removed Mrs. Green's body from her apartment bed to Memorial hospital, has declared:

"I, Mrs. Green's strangled body, which the Commonwealth contended was dead for a little over 12 hours when Wojack first saw it, had a peculiar odor, like dead meat, and it made me sick to my stomach."

2. Motor Patrolman Harold A. Hahn, sent to her apartment immediately after Chief of Police James A. Laughlin learned of the murder, did not know there was a scarf around the strangled woman's neck until a nurse at the hospital asked Hahn, "What's that around her neck?"

3. Another Good Will member, who went with Wojack on the call, had visited borough hall when the police investigation began, and then came to Wojack and told him, "When you go back there, say you didn't smell anything."

4. Benjamin Scirica, assistant district attorney who presented the Commonwealth's case during the April, 1947, trial, heard Wojack's opinion early in the investigation. (Continued on Page Fourteen)

IRON WORKERS BURNED IN BLAST

Shower of White-Hot Metal Covers Body of Foreman in Phoenixville Plant

PHOENIXVILLE, Aug. 31—Four workers were burned, one critically, when a vat of white-hot iron blew up in two violent blasts at the Phoenix-Apollo Iron company at 5:30 o'clock tonight.

John Yurko, 42, of Phoenixville, pit foreman in the open hearth division of the plant, was standing only four feet from the erupting metal.

He caught the full force of the white-hot shower and was taken to the Phoenixville hospital in an ambulance of the West End Fire company, suffering first, second and third degree burns of the entire body.

The blast that jarred parts of the community and brought hundreds of persons to the plant, also burned Frank Augusta, 39, of Phoenixville.

HE SUFFERED burns of arms, body and back, but was not in a serious condition tonight.

Two other unidentified workers also were treated for minor burns. Augusta said a mold of hot, liquid iron was hanging from a crane that he was operating.

It was to be cooled before being lowered into a vat of cold water on the floor.

While waiting for it to cool, Augusta asserted, he began lowering it toward the vat when "suddenly something happened," and the vat dropped too soon into the tank of cold water.

The metal erupted twice from the violent reaction, showering those in a 20-foot radius. The crane was partially consumed by the heat.

August Like Overheated Plate: Hot in Middle, Cool Around Edges

August began and ended with the thermometer hovering in the "chilly" 70's, but in the 29 days in between, there was enough variety of weather to have the fore-casters in a meteorological tizzy.

The big news of the month was the record-breaking heat wave that blasted and blistered Pottstonians for the better part of a week.

Only the past Monday did the torrid temperatures sag to a more nearly normal level, and the mercury finally settled down from its long session of boiling.

Four temperature records were smashed, as the thermometer recorded 96 degrees on Aug. 25; 96 degrees again the next day, break-

Gals Cool In That Harness?

By MARY JANE FEGELY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

So men think women are cool in their bare-backed dresses, hey? Those free-swinging skirts cover "ungirt legs," do they?

A Mercury reporter (male) and several of Pottstown's male species seemed to think so, judging from a survey printed in The Mercury yesterday.

A little "undercover" survey showed that although your sweethearts and wives look cool as the proverbial cucumber, they're probably writhing in agony, provoked by the very thing that gives them that suave alluring look.

The surveyor saw rows and rows of females, sitting under big mops of hair that covered their necks and heads.

Some wore dresses with sleeves below the elbows. They wore stockings that encase the limb well above the knee.

The stockings were hooked up to other things made of elastic, steel, fabric and various nits and bolts that not only hold the stockings but hold in still other things.

UP ABOVE THIS harness there is still more harness made of elastic, steel, fabric and various nits and bolts; and in some cases, added upholstery.

Their dainty little feet were shod in tight little leather devices designed to squeeze the foot into shape and size allegedly becoming to the critical male eye.

When these damsels retire to the privacy of their bedrooms at night, various red lines, ridges, welts and warlike marks on their pretty white bodies testify to the tortures of the restraining devices.

With a good-happy scratch, they are finally comfortable and ready (Continued on Page Fourteen)

1600 Members Set As Goal in 'Y' Drive On 65th Anniversary

Sixteen hundred members and $23,700 in cash are the goals of the annual membership roll call marking the 65th anniversary of the Pottstown YMCA. Jacob R. Sotter, chairman of the membership committee, announced the figures yesterday.

The campaign will begin at 8 o'clock tonight when team captains and their lieutenants meet at the YMCA to plan for the renewal phase of the drive which opens tomorrow morning.

This year, the roll call will be divided into two periods, the renewal period which lasts until Sept. 15, and the drive for new members which will begin with a "kick-off" dinner at 6:15 o'clock that night. During the first two weeks, all memberships up for renewal will be solicited.

WILLIAM H. CURTISS has been named general chairman of the annual roll call. He will be assisted by co-chairman Robert P. Smith.

Smith is serving as chairman of the sponsoring-sustaining division of the drive which will be responsible for raising 75 percent of the annual goal in terms of sponsoring memberships. The work of the YMCA also may be sustained through the scholarship fund which provides social and physical memberships for deserving boys and young men and underwrites special program services.

Captains for the drive will be Paul Mitchell, Thomas Storm, Ray- (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Riderless Scooter Runs Wild, Hits Car

Isabod Crane and the Headless Horseman had nothing on a riderless delivery scooter at High and Hanover streets early last night.

The machine, minus an operator, got a bug in its motor, scooted down South Hanover street, and cracked into a parked car on the west side after it was left by its lonesome owner on the east side of Hanover street near High. It cut a semi-circle to the other side of the street before careening southward.

Raymond Bauer, 446 Beech street, a newspaper vendor at High and Hanover streets, said he left the motor running. He believed the vibration caused gasoline to feed into the carburetor and that it was somehow thrown into gear.

Spectators, attracted by the scooter's buck for freedom and the resultant commotion, thought at first someone had been struck.

Tito Shakes Up Cabinet, Tightens Grip on Country

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Premier Marshal Tito shook up his cabinet today and established a solid pro-Tito front against the Cominform challenge to his leadership.

By a hastily-adopted decree Yugoslavia was placed under an all-Communist all-Tito government.

Elevated to more strategic posts in the government were Vice Premier Edvard Kardelj and Interior Minister Alexander Rankovic.

Those two men, along with Tito, have been singled out for special attack by the Cominform, the Soviet-dominated association of Communist countries in Eastern Europe which has assailed the Tito leadership as anti-Russian and deviating from the true Marxist line.

Kardelj was promoted from chairman of the control commission to foreign minister. Rankovic was named a vice premier. He retained his interior ministry job, which gives him control over the country's police.

CIO Executive Board Votes Union Backing For Truman Camp

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—The CIO executive board today endorsed President Truman for a full term in the White House, beating down opposition led by its pro-Wallace faction.

The vote was 35 to 12 in favor of a long policy statement praising the Democratic platform and leading the "high courage" of Mr. Truman in his civil rights fight.

On the other hand, the majority of CIO leaders scorned the Republican platform, which they said "condemns itself."

Republican nominee, Thomas E. Dewey, was described as "the candidate of big business."

IT TOOK THE CIO leadership all day to get down to a vote. Speeches were made by both major factions within the board. President Philip Murray and Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey argued for the Truman endorsement, but refrained from casting a ballot.

No one was surprised by the Truman stand. Murray was able to accomplish the task with a minimum of bitterness.

Albert J. Fitzgerald, head of the big United Electrical Workers and chairman of the Labor for Wallace committee, said none of minority leaders would "take a walk" from the CIO because of the Truman stand.

FOUR EX-REDS NAME PETERS AS BIG BOSS

Former Communists Testify at Hearing In Deportation Case

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—Four one-time Communists today identified "J. Peters" as a key figure in operations of the party in the United States in the 30's.

They testified at a deportation hearing for the mysterious Peters, described by Whittaker Chambers to the House Un-American Activities Committee as the top man in the Communist underground in this country.

One deportation witness, Maurice Malkin, said Peters was "the big boss" in the Communist party who organized action committees designed to take over the U. S. in time of war or economic crisis.

Another, George Hewitt, testified Peters preached that the U. S. "must be destroyed."

Andrew Smith, a third witness, said Peters was "the most active man working for the revolution in America."

The fourth, Charles H. White, charged that Peters represented the American Communist party at the Comintern in Moscow.

Hewitt, a Negro and former member of the national committee of the Communist party, said he renounced Communism in 1944.

Smith testified he left the party in 1935 after 16 years of membership.

Wallace Gets 'Egged' For 2d Day in South

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 31 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace headed into the deep South and more Negro segregation troubles tonight after three hectic days of egg throwing and booing in North Carolina.

Political leaders throughout the nation, including President Truman, deplored the violence which greeted the Progressive party presidential nominee because of his stand on racial issues.

Wallace spoke without interruption here, one of the few times since opening his campaign Sunday night in Durham he had been able to get across his proposed program for greater agriculture and industrial opportunity for the South.

"The people of North Carolina want peace," he told a crowd of 1500 on the plaza in downtown Asheville as he reiterated his plea for agreements with Russia. "They don't want war."

"We don't want Russia running our own affairs, and we don't want ourselves running the affairs of other countries," he continued in attacking the Marshall plan during his brief speech.

HE THANKED the audience for its "cordial reception" and said elsewhere in the state his appearances were disturbed "by a few irresponsible persons."

Then he attended a reception given by Dr. Karl Schaffie, a physician, at his home in an exclusive residential section. Whites and Negroes mingled freely.

French Ambassador Backs Europe Union

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—America's vigorous backing of France's call for a parliament of Europe was cheered today by French ambassador Henri Bonnet as greatly encouraging his people.

Creating the assembly can have a "tremendous effect" in promoting western unity, the envoy declared. "The powerful support of public opinion in Europe" is back of it, he asserted.

There is a "popular longing everywhere in Europe for better and closer co-operation," he told a reporter.

This government, which wants a closer knit west through a United States of Europe or any grouping of democratic states toward that end, said officially the past week that it "strongly favors the progressively closer integration of the free nations of Western Europe."

Text of New Evidence in Wentzel Affidavits

The following is the text of the two affidavits containing new evidence in the case of the murder of Mrs. Miriam P. Green. The affidavits are the keystone in the petition of Gerald C. Wentzel's attorneys for a reargument before the State Supreme court of his appeal from the conviction for the murder:

Statement of John Wojack
I, John Wojack of the Merchants hotel, Pottstown, Pa., do freely and voluntarily without any coercion from any source whatsoever, make this statement as follows:
I am a member of the Good Will Fire company in Pottstown, and on the afternoon of Dec. 9, 1946, I was present when a call came for the ambulance to go to Chestnut street, to the Boalton apartments. The call came at about 2:30 p. m. on Dec. 9, 1946.

I went with Harry Bachman (17 East Second street), who drove the ambulance, and we went to the Boalton apartments on Chestnut street. We carried the stretcher from the ambulance into the apartment on the first floor in the rear building.

As I entered the bedroom of that apartment, I smelled a peculiar odor, like dead meat, and it made me sick to my stomach. I continued to feel sick from this odor as I moved the body onto the stretcher.

Bachman had moved some of the furniture and the bed, so that we could get the stretcher in. Bachman picked up the body by the shoulders and I had hold of the feet and we lifted the body on the stretcher, and then carried it out and placed the body in the ambulance and drove to Memorial hospital.

When we carried the body in the hospital, we placed it in the emergency room. While the three of us were standing outside of the emergency room, meaning Bachman, Officer Hahn (Motor Patrolman Harold E. Hahn) and myself, the nurse came over to us and said, "What's that around her neck?"

Then Hahn said, "I did not see it," and Hahn walked back into the emergency room.

As near as I can recall, the next day or the following day, Bachman visited the city hall (Pottstown's borough hall). He came to me and told me that I was to report to the police at city hall in Pottstown.

Bachman said to me, "When you get back there, say you didn't smell anything."

I then went to the police department at city hall and there I saw Mr. Scirica (Benjamin Scirica, assistant district attorney), and Officer Hahn. They asked me to tell what I knew about the case.

I told Mr. Scirica that when I moved the body, I got sick in my stomach because of what I smelled. Mr. Scirica then asked me who told me to say that and who was paying me to make such a statement.

I answered that no one told me to say that and no one was paying me; and I was simply telling the truth. I asked him if he wanted my statement and he said he did not need it.

I gave this same statement to Cecil Smith, Wentzel's investigator, before the trial. I was subpoenaed as one of the defendant's witnesses at the trial.

Mr. Rosenberg (W. H. Rosenberg Jr.), Wentzel's attorney, spoke to me during the trial, and it was then that I told Mr. Rosenberg that I had become ill when I removed the body because I had been drinking the night before.

Actually, I had not been drinking on Sunday night of Dec. 8, 1946. The reason that I gave this statement to Mr. Rosenberg was that I did not want to testify.

I thought that Bachman had made a written statement to the district attorney (Frederick B. Smilie, now out of office) which would be different from mine because of what he had said to me when I was told to report to the police station by him.

Because I thought our statements were different, I was afraid that if I testified in behalf of Wentzel and told the truth, that I might be charged with perjury.

I have given this statement this twenty-first day of July, A. D., 1948, at 504 Swede street, Norristown, Pa., in the presence of Paul Kleinspehn, Ernest E. Heim, attorney, and his secretary, Amelia, Allevi.

Statement of W. L. Franck
I, W. L. Franck, of 57 North Hanover street, Pottstown, Pa., do freely and voluntarily without any coercion from any source whatsoever, make this statement:

I am a Medical Doctor graduate of Hahnemann Medical college in the year 1897. I was called by the local police in the early afternoon of Monday, Dec. 9, 1946, to proceed to the apartment in the rear of 358 Chestnut street, Pottstown, Pa., to determine whether the body of a female was then dead or alive.

I testified at the trial of Gerald C. Wentzel as to what I found on that occasion.

I am making this statement as a result of conversations which I had with Mr. Paul Kleinspehn, private detective working in behalf of Gerald C. Wentzel.

He came to me in June of this year to ask me whether I had ever publicly made a statement that the verdict rendered against Gerald C. Wentzel was a gross injustice.

Mr. Kleinspehn asked me whether I made such a statement and I said I had.

Mr. Kleinspehn asked me why I made that statement and I replied that there was not sufficient evidence to convict a man of murder.

In that conversation, Mr. Kleinspehn further questioned me and gave me a report of some of the evidence at the trial that very definitely changed my mind concerning the testimony that I had given formerly.

I learned that the atmospheric conditions existing for 24 to 48 hours prior to the finding of the body were such as to warrant the advance of time on the statement that I made as a witness concerning the time of death.

In changing my opinion I was influenced by the statement by one of the witnesses who occupy the other apartment in this building in which the body was found.

This witness testified that the apartment was cold, so cold as to make it extremely uncomfortable for the witness' family, who occupied the upstairs apartment.

This witness testified that the heat was turned on late Sunday afternoon.

This testimony would warrant considering an extension of time in my testimony increasing the time within which death could have occurred to as far back as Friday night, Dec. 6, 1946, or Saturday, Dec. 7, 1946.

I have given this statement this twenty-third day of August A.D. 1948, at 57 North Hanover street, Pottstown, Pa., in the presence of

Spanish War Vets To Attend Reunion

Accompanied by their wives, four Spanish-American War veterans of Pottstown's Company M who live in the area will attend the 50th anniversary of the Fourth regiment in Pottsville Sept. 11 and 12.

If the four are present, it will account for one-fourth the living strength of the company which carried 103 men on its roster when it marched off for Puerto Rican duty 50 years ago.

Melvin B. Kraus, Company M veteran and adjutant of the Fourth Regiment association, said the following would attend from the Pottstown area:

Mr. and Mrs. James Weidner, Earlville; Mr. and Mrs. E. Clay Miller, 242 North Charlotte street; Mr. and Mrs. Kraus, 1011 Rambler avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tice, Pennhurst.

Company M is one of a dozen companies in the Fourth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and was mustered out in 1898.

At the two-day meeting, association members will elect officers for the coming year, hold a memorial service for those who died in the past year, listen to speeches and be entertained.

Army Announces Plan to Oust Reds Upon Discovery

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) — Communists and fellow travelers will be drafted but the Army indicated strongly today that it will throw them out as fast as it can spot them.

Following up a National Guard announcement that the guard wants no Communists, a reporter submitted a request at the Pentagon for a statement of the Army's attitude.

Press headquarters in response produced a memorandum stating that the Army's over-all policy "is to permit only loyal Americans to serve in the Army in any capacity."

The same memorandum included a ruling that "membership in or close affiliation with the Communist party is inimical to national security."

Along with that policy statement, information officers pointed out that both officers and enlisted personnel on active duty are subject to loyalty checks. They said such persons are subject to removal from the service "for the convenience of the government" if found to be of divided loyalty.

ARMY PLANS TO keep Communists and fellow travelers out of "sensitive" assignments already had been announced. Until the policy memorandum was produced today, however, officers had been close-mouthed about any idea of throwing them out of the service.

Under the new draft law, Communists may be inducted.

All inductees, as well as men now in service, will be subject to loyalty tests. The screening process will use as a yardstick the list of organizations termed subversive by Attorney General Tom Clark.

All men belonging to these subversive groups will be removed from the Army, officials said. But they said the screening is being hampered by a shortage of investigators who currently are concentrating on 25,000 regular Army officers.

QUAKERTOWN, Aug. 31 (AP) — Five heifer calves were born in the litter today on the farm of Mrs. Blissen, Reigelsville.

Dr. J. J. Cavanaugh, Quakertown veterinarian, said this has occurred only several times before.

The calves are black and white Holsteins.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1948

The man who makes no mistakes does not usually make anything.—
Edward J. Phelps.

That All Men May Have Enough HELPS ADAMS, chief of the Washington bureau of the New York Sun, recently defined the essential difference between capitalism and communism in these words:
"The communist, seeing the rich man and his fine home, says: 'No man should have so much.' The capitalist, seeing the same thing, says: 'All men should have as much.' ...
Communism—born of poverty and hunger—
seeks to perfect a system for the equal distribution of a scarcity of goods, so that ultimately no man has enough of anything. Capitalism—born of hardship and toil—seeks to provide such a plenitude of goods that, ultimately, all men have enough of everything."

The main technique used by communists and socialists is to argue that capitalism makes possible luxury for the few, while it exploits the many.

Yet, according to a study recently completed at the University of Notre Dame, the opposite is true. Over a thirty-year period, 88 percent of all our income has gone to those with earnings of less than $5000 a year.
And—of equal importance—the long-time trend has been to steadily raise the percentage earned by people of modest means.

And how does capitalism stack up against the other systems which are in operation throughout the world? The evidence in its favor is overwhelming. According to Mr.
Adams, we have 46 percent of the world's electric power, 48 percent of its radios, 60 percent of its life insurance policies, and 85 percent of its automobiles.

So much for material gains. The record also shows that capitalism is the only economic system which can exist along with representative government and a maximum of individual freedom. Every system of controlled enterprise, no matter what name it goes by, inevitably is accompanied by more and more regimentation of the individual—and, in the final stage, by a government based on terrorism and slavery.

When the Olympic games ended in London recently, the press services carried a significant story. A number of athletes from Czechoslovakia and other countries within the iron curtain refused to leave. They hope to find sanctuary in England, Canada and the United States. They have seen oppression, they have had a small taste of freedom,
and they have made their choice.

There is a lesson in that for those here at home who denounce a way of life that has given more material and spiritual benefits to more people than any other.

Just a Match

TAKE a look at a match. It's a cheap, necessary, and innocent looking little article.
Yet matches have caused the destruction of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property and tens of thousands of lives.

The same thing is true of cigarettes. Great forests, homes, factories—all have gone up in smoke and flame because people didn't go to the small trouble of putting smoking mat-terials completely out when discarding them.

How about the cords that carry the juice to your lamps? Their cost is small and they can be installed in a matter of minutes. Yet, as it is to replace them when frayed,
short-circuits also have a gigantic toll of destruction to life and property to their credit.

These three examples show the main causes of fire—and the ease with which such fires can be prevented.

The vast majority of fires are the result of one thing only—the human factor.

Someone is lazy.

Someone is careless.

Someone puts off till tomorrow what should be done today.

The fire strikes. The loss may be great or it may be small. In either case, it is totally unnecessary.

Keep that in mind when smoking, when checking household equipment, or when doing anything that has a bearing on fire hazards.

Politico-Gastric Note

THERE is something superficially attractive about the American Vegetarian Party, which has a ticket out in the presidential race.

At a glance, a person would probably suppose that fundamentally the V.P. would be at least mutonheads in public office and all forms of pork-barrel legislation.

Many people might be deterred, though,
by a haunting suspicion that if the Vegetarians won, the potatoes might be small and onions might not be known.

Guess they'll vote for one of the old-line carnivorous parties, most of them, as usual.

Conventions? Phooey! He's for Comfort in Shorts

Novelty Can Be Overcome

To the Editor: I'm glad you brought the subject of men wearing shorts into the open. I have been getting wild-eyed stares from neighbors all Summer when I walk around the yard in shorts. They seem to think it's the height of immodesty.

Men are slaves to conventions just as women are gullible to the whims of fashion designers. But I must say this for women's fashions: They are designed for comfort when it's hot.

If shorts for both men and women became standard Summer dress, the brevity of the women's attire will get less attention from the males. After the novelty wears off and we get accustomed to seeing boney, muscular legs displayed in the open, no one will do any coggling at anybody.

Surely we'll all be much more comfortable when it's hot.

To the Editor: I don't see why Romeo ("Girls Give Him the Brush-Off," Read-

Men on Wheels," Readers Say, Aug. 31)
are so concerned about meeting Pottstown girls.

Girls? What a mistake that is!
"Hags" would be a better word. Walking or riding, both of these guys are crazy for even wanting to meet them. Most of them are so horrible that the only thing that makes them look good is a pitch black night.

I'll admit that there are a few good-looking ones, but they have been grabbed early. As for the rest—aaagh.

The worst part of it is that they insist on trying to pick me up—and, I don't have a car. It's just one of the burdens a big, good-looking guy like me has to suffer.

Dames, dames, dames. You can have them. Frankly, I'm looking for a room at the YMCA to get away from them.

INTERPRETIVE

British People Approve U. S. Policy on Russia

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

LONDON, Aug. 31—Officials here, discussing the outward British calm over the cold war which has given rise to in-vidious comparisons in America, say they do not think the United States is hysterical.

They give various reasons why people here are less volatile, depending largely on which phase of life or diplomacy the particular official is most intimately connected with.

They may say the British have lived longer, seen crises come and go, and are more resigned to an attitude of wait and see.

They may say that after the experiences of the past 10 years, it takes an awful lot to excite them, that they are emotionally exhausted. Some of them evince a feeling that delicate international affairs are better conducted in an atmosphere of public silence. Others stress that, because of the paper shortage, the British people are never fully up-to-date on international developments.

None of them says that Americans are wrong in viewing the cold war as extremely critical. All of them say that there are no differences between British and American official policy toward Russia.

THEY HAVE BEEN cautious, they admit, in the realization that if cold war turns to hot, Britain will become a great base for America and that she might very well be the first Russian target. But they are quick to add that a firm policy toward Russia is now as much British as American.

I cannot tell whether the British are entirely convinced as to that firmness on the part of America. As individuals they are so courteous, so unanimously friendly to an American newspaperman, so deprecatory of the importance of any differences which may arise between the two countries, that one is bound to wonder if so much sweetness and light is really possible.

Outside these official sources there are certain suspicions which are expressed. Suspicions may be too strong a word. Perhaps it is only wonderment.
But there may be wonderment here as to what might happen to Britain if America and Russia do reach an agreement.

THERE IS NEVER any expressed question of the necessity for Anglo-American unity. The question here is:
Would America swing back to her wartime attitude of leaning over backward to buy Russian co-operation, and by doing so would she forget this basic necessity?

Would a strong Britain, with the need for world trade to maintain that strength, remain as important an objective for America under those circumstances as at present? To avoid renewed crises with Russia, would America ever permit Communist encroachment on Britain's world interests?

There is unquestioned resentment here against American efforts to break down certain parts of the British trade structure.

This applies particularly to a certain exclusiveness in trade arrangements within the British Commonwealth of Nations, the maintenance of the sterling bloc, and to American pressures for a hurry-up customs union in Western Europe.

The individual situation of every person in Britain also contributes to the lack of outward enthusiasm over international affairs.

Not that they can be accused of political unawareness, by any stretch of the imagination. But they do have to live their daily lives, which require time, thought and effort Americans can hardly visualize as applied to one of the world's great peoples.

Draft Dodging Into Trouble

To the Editor: I agreed very strongly with your editorial last Saturday about draft dodgers who get married to cheat
Uncle Sam. That is all they are, too, draft dodgers.

But some of those "smart" babies are going to be in for a painful, rude awakening one of these mornings after the honeymoon is over. There are several things worse than getting in the Army, and getting married to the wrong woman is one of them. And the best way to get the wrong woman is to be in a big hurry.

If those phooneys think there is too much discipline in the Army, wait until their "draft-exemption" begins laying down the law and throwing his money around so he doesn't have a dime to call his own.

When two years or so are over, their unmarried friends will be back in civilian life with a discharge. But I have known several friends of mine who have spent 15 or 20 years trying to get a discharge from the matrimonial service.

In addition to protecting the regular guys who go off without grousing, a repeal of exempting married men would protect the poor fools who think a good wife is easy to find. Or that a bad wife is easy to get rid of.

Pottstown EXPERIENCED

New Water Intake Necessary?

To the Editor: What's the sense in spending $65,000 or more of borough money to install a new water intake at the Bramco pumping station if we're going to tap a new source of water supply?

Or are we going to get water from a new, cleaner source?

Some months ago there was talk in borough council of using artesian wells, or using Manawatu creek.

What has happened to this? Was it just talk to keep the public quiet while it went on drinking the stuff out of the dirty Schuylkill?

I wonder of what value will be this new water intake in a few years if then the borough decides to change its source of water. It doesn't seem to me it could be converted to artesian well use.

Maybe we'll just keep on drinking Schuylkill water. But did the borough ever figure that its income from water would jump considerably if those, which I estimate approximately 50 percent, drank tap water instead of buying spring water?

Can't Get Sick on Thursday

To the Editor: Why do so many doctors in Pottstown have to take the same day, namely Thursday? Is Thursday supposed to be a particularly healthy day?

What is one to do when a member of the family becomes violently ill on Thursday?

I had this experience recently and believe me it is anything but pleasant. It would certainly seem that members of the profession could get together and stagger their time off.

As things stand, if you're going to get sick on Thursday, it had better be on the golf links.

Steer Is 'Dead Duck'

To the Editor: My guess is that the steer that galloped so bravely down High street Saturday night is now being cut into T-bones for somebody's dinner.

Understand, I don't know where it is.
But I've stood at enough meat counters in the last few months to know that those steak-hungry expressions on customers' faces could be converted into gargantuan strength and speed to capture any 800-pounder on the hoof. No matter if it is as wild as a deer.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

POLLY G. 19, gave a ten-minute talk preceding my address before a large young people's convention.

Her remarks were very interesting.
She had her speech typewritten, but knew it so well she seldom had to refer to the pages lying on the table before her.

But she was very frightened when she first took the platform. Her face was pale beneath the rouge, and her hands trembled. To steady them, she resolutely grasped the edges of the table.

Her voice was even a little trembly at the start, but it grew firmer as she advanced. When she reached the end of her address, she was much more poised.
Her hands had also lost much of their tremor.

DEMOSTHENES had it to such an extent that he stuttered. Moses tried to beg off from the task of leading the Jews out of Egypt because he also suffered from stage fright and stuttering.

Both of these men were introverted wallflowers who resolutely forced themselves to take over their social responsibilities.

Yesterday I received a letter from a fellow physician. He thanked me generously for similar remarks in a previous letter from me relative to stage fright.

"Dr. Crane, it certainly is helpful to know that everybody else is in the same boat when attempting to give a speech,"
he commented.

"I had to deliver an address before the women's club of our town last week, and I never suffered so much agony in all my life."

"I could hardly sleep on the night before I was scheduled to talk, and I was so exhausted following my thirty minutes on the platform that I called off my evening office hours, and went home to bed."

"I was so disgusted with myself and my cowardice that I resolved never to accept a speaking engagement again."

"But your remarks have given me
new hope. I guess misery loves company.
I don't feel quite so dejected, now that I realize everybody else goes through the same ordeal the first time."

This doctor wasn't a coward, however,
for he forced himself to do what was expected of him. It isn't cowardly to be afraid when we are in a new or dangerous situation.

There is no royal road to oratorical poise and skill. It is just a matter of practice and intelligent study. Take advantage of opportunities to get up before people and talk. Teach a Sunday school class.

Chemical Group Told Of New Product to Help Fight Fungi

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—A powerful new chemical which kills the fungi responsible for athlete's foot, scalp ringworm and huge plant losses was reported today to the American Chemical Society.

Dr. F. E. Cislak, research director of the Reilly Tar and Chemical Corporation, Indianapolis, said it has had laboratory tests important in development of a new medicinal. He added that proof of its value for human beings must await the outcome of clinical tests.

Until clinical tests are completed, he said, "it is best to guard against undue optimism."

The man-made product—called "Echridine"—is so powerful, he told the chemists' 14th national meeting, that in laboratory trials it proved effective against fungi even when diluted 150,000 times.

Fungi are microscopic plants which require warmth, oxygen, water and food to live. They like carbohydrates, proteins and fats for food. Several hundred thousand types exist in nature. Some of them, called parasitic fungi, attack living tissues; others, called saprophytic fungi, attack dead matter.

THE NEW FUNGI-fighter is a derivative of a chemical called "pyridine." Pyridine compounds are recovered from coke oven gases of steel mills.

Less than a decade ago, these pyridines were burned, because there was no known use for them. Later, it was found that pyridine could be employed in waterproofing cloth; also as one of the bases in producing synthetic vitamins of the B-complex group.

During the war, pyridines were used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber; and more recently, it was found that pyridine compounds can be used to alleviate the symptoms of allergies, such as hay fever.

The new compound is technically known as "4-(4-Ethylcyclohexylmethyl) pyridine."

Saying that fungi produce crop losses of approximately $2,000,000,000 annually, Dr. Cislak said: "The loss of lumber through decay, also caused by fungi, is of serious proportions. The mildew staining of fabrics, the molding of leather, the rotting of tents, tarpaulins and ropes are all the result of fungous infections."

Air Force to Attempt New Speed Mark In Jet Fighter With Full Complement of Guns

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31 (AP)—Major Richard L. Johnson, a onetime chicken raiser who has been flying 17 of his 30 years, believes he will set a new world record next week-end if the weather is good.

He will have to average about 651 miles an hour in his F86 North American jet fighter to do it. The record of 650.796 is held by a Navy research plane. Previously it was necessary to top any current record by nearly five miles an hour to set a new one. With improved timing devices, however, the wide margin is not necessary and race officials said one-tenth of a mile an hour would be sufficient.

The Air Force, still smarting from the Navy's unexpected smashing of a two-month-old record just before the past year's National Air races, announced with considerable satisfaction today its intention to take-back the honor. The Air Force plans to do it with a precedent-setting flourish.

FIRST, IT WILL fly the F86 with a full complement of guns and ammunition—the first time in history a production model combat plane has been used.

Historically, the speed record has been set over water or isolated land areas, such as the Muroc, Calif., air base.

Johnson is no glamorous "joy-stick Joe." He is on the homely side, soft-spoken and confident. He just says the F86 "can do it easy" if he can see far enough ahead. Johnson is willing to ship over the course if visibility is as much as six miles, the distance he would cover in about one-half minute.

He grew up in Cooperstown, N. D., and learned to fly in an OX-5 Travelair when he was 13. Five years later, while working for a hatchery chain, he built his own plane, using a Ford engine, and flew it 113 hours.

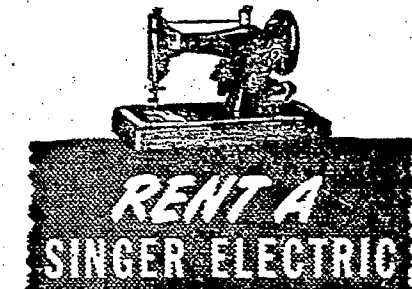

Since then he has flown virtually every type of aircraft, including B29's and all Air Force fighters.

Johnson flew 180 combat missions in Republic's P47 Thunderbolt, fighter-bombers with the 12th Air Force. His job was primarily against ground targets, but he bagged one Nazi plane in the air while destroying 40 on the ground.

Courti Action Taken On 'Deplorable' Road In Upper Frederick

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Aug. 31—A group of Upper Frederick township property owners today urged the county court to force the township supervisors to repair a stretch of road leading to their homes which, they charge, is in a "deplorable condition."

In a mandamus action filed through Attorney Robert Truckess to the prothonotary's office, the property owners named as defendants William Mutter, Wilmer Hunsberger and Godfried Franke, the supervisors.

The plaintiffs are John T. and Ida Barr, Richard R. and Catherine Regan, Josephine Andrey, G. Brinkman and Hildegarde Brinkman, Michael Micheli and Randolph and Stella Sims.

It is claimed that Faust road, especially the three-quarter mile portion between Salford Station and Little road, is in such poor shape that a vehicle of any kind has little chance for survival after the short trip.

"The springs of our automobiles have been broken and tires have been punctured and we are forced to travel with great difficulty over the highway, especially during and after a heavy rain," the plaintiffs complain.

ALTHOUGH the road has been little more than an obstacle course for the past two years, repeated requests to the supervisors for relief have been ignored, it is charged.

The plaintiffs blame only two members of the board of supervisors for their plight.

Godfried Franke, who took office in January of this year, has expended every possible effort to have his colleagues sanction the repairs, but his requests have been disregarded, it is charged.

Helen Glanski Is Charming Summer Bride In Ceremony in St. John's Catholic Church

St. John's Catholic church of the Greek rite was the setting of a beautiful late Summer wedding Saturday when Miss Helen Catherine Glanski became the bride of Mr. Arthur Amwake Jr., son of Mr. Arthur Amwake Sr., 123 E. 1st street. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Glanski, Kew-Forest.

The altar of the church was attractively decorated with white and pink gladiolus surrounded by palms for the double ring ceremony performed at 10 o'clock in the morning with the Rev. John Tajch of officiating before the large number of guests assembled.

Preceding the nuptials the mass was sung by the church choir.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was stunning in traditional heavy white slipper satin, fashioned with off the shoulder neckline set with pearlized orange blossoms. The bodice was tightly fitted with long full sleeves tapering to a point over each wrist. In the exact center front of the very full skirt a cluster of pearlized orange blossoms picked up the bottom to reveal beneath a dainty Chantilly lace slip, while in back the skirt flowed into a long court train.

Her three tier scalloped finger tip veil of French illusion-net fell to a tulle of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of five orchids surrounded by stephanotis from which fell a shower of white satin ribbons.

HER NIECE, Miss Catherine Betty Glanski, appeared as maid of honor in a tulle gown of peacock blue designed with sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves on the snugly fitted bodice. At the back of the very full skirt which swept out to form a small train was a tiny bustle. With this she wore matching mitts and wore a headpiece of a side crown consisting of gardenias and ferns with gold ribbons. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and poms with showers of white and gold satin ribbons falling.

In gowns identical with that of

William Hunsberger Takes Bride in Valley Forge Chapel

The wedding of Miss Mildred E. Strunk and C. William Hunsberger was solemnized Sunday in Washington Memorial chapel in Valley Forge with the Rev. John Robbins, officiating.

Miss Strunk is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Strunk Hoeffe, Norristown, while Mr. Hunsberger is the son of Mrs. Charles Hunsberger, East Greenville.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Charles Hoeffe, was attired in white marquisette fashioned with tightly fitted bodice containing a high rounded neckline and long puffed sleeves. A double gore of lace centered the front and back of the very full skirt and extended into the long graceful train.

With this she wore a headband of ivory and baby's breath from which fell her fingertip veil of illusion net. She carried a cascade bouquet of gladioli and ivy.

Attending as matron of honor was her cousin, Mrs. Frank Switzer, who appeared in a blue gown of tulle bearing cap sleeves and a row of tiny buttons extending from the neck to the center of the wide ballerina skirt. Her headpiece was a blue green horsehair hat and she carried a cascade bouquet of gladioli and ivy with matching ribbon streamer.

Mr. Jerry Hunsberger attended as best man.
Following a reception at the home of the bride the couple left for a tour of the Southern states with the bride traveling in a gray linen suit with green accessories. After Sept. 5, the couple will reside in Souderton.
Mrs. Hunsberger is a graduate of Norristown High school and West Chester State Teacher's college, while her husband is a graduate of East Greenville High school, class of 1943, and after serving three and a half years in the Army is now employed at the Harleysville Mutual Insurance company.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Trump Lead Nips Ruffs

WHEN the dummy has only two or three trumps and they get used up on leads of the suit, they naturally can't take additional tricks by ruffing. That is the obvious principle underlying the purpose of trump leads by the defense. Of course, if the dummy has so many trumps that taking out one or two still leaves plenty there, you have no motive for the play. Also, if there is an established suit in the dummy which can be used for discarding of all ruffable losers, again it avails you nothing. Judgment is needed to decide whether the play should be tried.

You never saw a deal on which the influence of trump leads was more clearcut than on this one, dealt in a national championship pair event. At one table, West led the heart Q to the A and the diamond K was given up to the A to prepare for a ruffing process. East in that case saw the advisability of a trump lead, but decided first to cash his heart K. That of course was trumped by South, who then went back and forth between his own hand and dummy with a cross ruff. He therefore picked up two tricks by trumping diamonds in dummy, plus two ruffs of hearts in his own hand, three high trumps, the heart A and two club tops to make ten all told.

At one table East set the contract one by returning a trump on the third trick when in with the diamond A. That left the dummy just one trump for ruffing a diamond. At still another table a trump was led originally, then a second trump after the diamond A won. That took out both of the dummy's trumps, so that no diamonds were ruffed and the declarer was therefore beaten two tricks. So one trump lead destroyed one ruff and two trump leads destroyed two ruffs—just as simply as that.

Chicago Upsets Brooklyn Twice;
Braves Gain With 3-1 Triumph

Hank Borowy Holds
Dodgers to One Hit,
Misses Perfect Till

CHICAGO, Aug. 31 (AP)—The tail-end Chicago Cubs dealt the pennant hopes of the Brooklyn Dodgers a rough jolt today as Hank Borowy and Doyle Lade pitched the Cubs to a 3-0 and 7-2 triumphs over the league leaders before 45,531 paid customers.

The twin setbacks snapped a seven-game Brooklyn win streak and cut the Dodgers' margin over the runner-up Boston Braves to two percentage points.

Borowy pitched one of the best games of his career in the opener as he yielded only one hit. That was a second-inning single by Gene Hermanski, who was nipped attempting to steal, was the only Dodger to reach base as Borowy faced the minimum of 27 batters.

The former New York Yankee ace fanned seven and made only 100 pitches in gaining his fifth win of the season against five setbacks.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 31 (AP)—Boston climbed to within two percentage points of the pennant-chasing Brooklyn Dodgers tonight with a 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Red Barrett limited Cincinnati to seven hits and the Red's only run came on Grady Hatton's ninth homer. Kent Peterson was the losing pitcher.

Frank McCormick's game-winning two-run homer keyed the Boston attack in the sixth inning when the Braves collected three runs before retiring. Frank sent the ball over the left field fence after Mike McCormick drew a walk and Bob Elliott fouled out on an attempted sacrifice. The homer was McCormick's third of the season.

Pirates Stretch Streak
To Four Straight Wins
With 3-Run Rally in 7th

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31 (AP)—The onrushing Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for three runs in the seventh inning to edge the New York Giants 5 to 4 tonight and move within two games of first place. The win was the fourth straight for the Pirates while the Giants dropped their seventh in a row. A crowd of 30,396 set a new home attendance record of 1,281,558 thus far this season.

All of the Pirates runs in the seventh were unearned, the Giants chipping in with two errors.

Johnny Ropp, pinchhitting for Ed Boekman, opened the inning with a single. That was all for Sheldon Jones. Ray Post was greeted by a double by Eddie Fitzgerald and when Bob Thompson fumbled the ball, Hopp raced home.

Max West batted for Elmer Riddle and was safe when Buddy Kerr dropped his pop fly back of second. Stan Rojek forced Fitzgerald at third and Danny Murtagh bounced out but a walk to Dixie Walker loaded the bases. Ralph Kliner then shot a single to center, scoring Basgall and Rojek with the tying and winning runs.

REX BARNEY pitched well for the Dodgers, yielding eight hits. He held the Cubs at bay until the fourth when they scored, twice on Bob Scheetz's two-run triple to the right field corner. Scheetz also drove in Chicago's final run in the sixth inning when he flied out with the bases loaded.

Lade coasted to his third triumph in the nightcap. The Cubs scored all of their runs in the first four innings.

Ralph Branca, ailing Dodger right-hander, made his first start since Aug. 15. Branca was wearing a shinguard to protect his injured left ankle. Wilderness hurt him.

Branca walked three batters in the second inning and then Emil Verban cleared the sacks with a two-out double. Hank Behrman took over after Ralph issued his fourth pass of the inning.

Behrman gave up a run in the third after two outs on a walk, hit batsman and single by Roy Smalley.

Doehler Pitcher Helps
Own Cause With Two RBIs;
Teams Meet Tomorrow

Bobby Yerger pitched two-hit ball and drove in two runs with a single on Franklin Field last night to lead Doehler's Diecasters to a 4-1 conquest of Flagg's and a 2-1 edge in the City-Industrial league's final playoffs.

The fifth game of the best of five series will be played tomorrow night. No game is scheduled tonight.

Yerger was in command from start to finish and was in trouble only once—in the sixth inning when Flagg's scored their lone run and threatened to make it close. The Doehler right-hander, however, worked himself out of the spot like a veteran.

A throng of 900 fans saw Yerger drive in the first two runs of the game in the second inning when the defending champions pounded Jimmy Scheetz for five base hits.

MERRILL MAUGER opened the Doehler half of the inning with a sharp single to left. Dixie Rayson beat out a bunt for a base hit and Jimmy Egolf advanced the runners with a sacrifice. Yerger then lifted a short-pop fly into left field which went for another hit and Mauger and Rayson scored.

Bucky Marshall followed Yerger's safety with an infield hit, and Eppie Mauger drilled another one-bagger into left to score Yerger with the third run.

The Diecasters loaded the bases in the third inning and had a good chance to fatten their lead, but Scheetz got by without allowing any runs to score.

DOEHLER'S, HOWEVER, greeted relief pitcher Johnny Wirog with three hits in the fourth inning that accounted for their final run. Marshall's second hit, a walk to Eppie Mauger, a sacrifice by Paul Peiffer and Nels Weidenbaugh's single to center, scored the fourth run. Mauger was thrown out at the plate trying to score from second.

Yerger, meanwhile, was coasting along with a one-hitter. The only hit allowed by him in the first five frames came off the bat of Billy Harner and it was of the infield variety.

Yerger lost his shutout in the sixth inning when two errors set up Flagg's only tally. Wirog's pop up was dropped by Yerger and the relief pitcher was safe at first base. Merrill Hook popped up but Gerry Egolf made a catch and threw out Charlie Hertzog's grounder and all runners were safe.

Ernie McCord followed with a liner down the right field foul line that went for a double and Wirog scored from second. Yerger bore down and got Stosh Wassilik on a routine grounder to second and forced Bobby Millard to pop up to end the inning.

Doehler could not match their second consecutive league title tomorrow night with another victory over Flagg's, but if the Diecasters lose the sixth game of the series will be played Friday night. Flagg's need two consecutive wins to take the championship.

EAGLE STAR FINED $150
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31 (AP)—Frank Kilroy, Philadelphia Eagles guard, today was fined $150 by National Football league commissioner Bert Bell for unsportsmanlike play in an exhibition game the past Saturday at Indianapolis.

The "shadow roll" used on racing horses is a sheepskin-type roll worn above the horse's nose just below the eyes. It cuts off the horse's view of the track and avoids shadows.

Boston Sox Win
To Maintain Lead

BOSTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Lefty Mel Parnell maintained his perfect record against the Detroit Tigers by holding them to eight scattered hits as his Boston Red Sox protected their slim American league lead with an 8-4 victory tonight before a packed 33,310 crowd.

It was Parnell's fourth successive decision over the Tigers in two seasons, a feat that boosted his sophomore record to the 11-6 mark.

The Soxers gave their most effective southpaw a flying start against Art Houtteman by scoring four times on three hits in the first two innings.

In the seventh, with Lefty Ted Gray on the mound for Detroit, Johnny Pesky registered the sixth out.

Successful doubles by Ted Williams and Junior Stephens provided the first tally in the opening session and a walk, an error and a two-base blow by Billy Hitchcock, who was spelling injured Bobby Doerr at second base, provided three more runs in the second inning.

Browns' Rally Falls Short,
Yanks Take 10-9 Decision

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—The New York Yankees weathered a five-run ninth inning rally tonight to nip the St. Louis Browns, 10-9.

The Browns rally was nipped when Whitney Platt was thrown out at the plate attempting to score from first on a double by Dick Kokos. Charley Keller and Tommy Henrich homered for New York and Al Zarula for St. Louis.

With the Browns trailing by one run in the final frame and Platt on first with a two-run single, Kokos hammered a double into right center. Platt carrying the tying run, was nailed at the plate, however, as Joe DiMaggio retrieved the ball and threw to George Stirmweiss, who quickly relayed to catcher Gus Niarhos for the second out of the inning. Joe Page then retired Hank Arft to insure the triumph.

Leading, 6 to 4 in the eighth the Bombers slapped Karl Drews, third Brownsie pitcher, for four runs to gain a seemingly safe six-run margin. Henrich's two-run homer, his twentieth, and Yogi Berra's fluke triple, which proved to be the deciding run, were the big blows of the surge.

Boudreau Paces Attack
With 3 Hits; Bob Lemon
Checks A's Threat in 9th

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31 (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau led the Cleveland Indians to a 6 to 1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics tonight with a single, a double and a triple which drove in two runs. Relief pitcher Bob Lemon retired three A's in succession without allowing a run after Philadelphia loaded the bases in the ninth with none out.

Lemon saved the game for rookie southpaw Gene Bearden who was lifted by Boudreau after walking the first two men to face him in the ninth inning. Lemon issued a third successive "pass" to Pete Suder but then fanned pinch hitter Carl Scheib, got Eddie Joost on a short outfield fly and Barney McCosky on a foul pop fly to end the game.

Cleveland settled the game with a four-run fifth inning uprising against starter Dick Fowler, defeating him for the third time this year. Bearden started the rally with a double and Dale Mitchell, Wally Judnich and Boudreau followed with successive hits.

Cleveland picked up single runs in the sixth and ninth innings with Boudreau's single driving in the sixth inning marker while he scored on Joe Gordon's single after opening the eighth with a triple.

FORD PROGRAM SCHEDULED FOR SANATOGA OVAL

Offies to Race Sundays Only; McAndrews Favored To Dominate Card Tonight

In a move to give the Ford midjet racers a chance to grab the spotlight at the Sanatoga speedway, Karl Spatz announced that only Ford cars will race at the local speed plant Wednesday nights.

The Sanatoga track director said the Offenhausers will be given a rest during the week but return here to challenge the Ford drivers Sunday nights.

Fans will be seeing something different tomorrow night, for George Fonder will not be racing. Fonder has swept the past five feature races at Sanatoga but will have to carry on his winnings on Sunday nights only.

SHORTY McANDREWS, however, will carry the Ken Hickey banner to the Wednesday night programs. McAndrews, of Allentown, is the second half of the famed Hickey driving team and will be piloting his fast Ford car here tomorrow.

Challenging the Hickey star will be such top-notch Ford drivers as Tommy Merriken, Al Smith, Carl Miller, George Marshman, Johnny Favinger, Red Redmond, Larry Coates, Cliff Watts, Frank Sanders, Vince Sarvis, Homer Claytor, Al Momenie, Stan Kozlowski and many others.

Something new has been added to tonight's usual attractive card of eight events. Supplementing the fare of time trials, three 10-lap qualifying heats, a 12-lap semi-final, a 12-lap consolation and a 25-lap feature will be a match race between students of the George Marshman driving school, which meets for instruction here every Wednesday and Sunday afternoon.

The first race on tonight's AAA sanctioned program will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Charles Signs To Fight Baksi In New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—Heavyweights Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati and Joe Baksi, Kulpmont, Pa., have signed to meet in a 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden, Friday, Nov. 12, the 20th Century Sporting club announced today.

Baksi, rated a leading contender until he lost a decision to Olle Tanberg in Stockholm the past summer, already has started his comeback campaign. He knocked out Willie Brown in a week ago.

The knockout wasn't surprising but Baksi's low weight raised many an eyebrow in boxing circles. It was announced that the former coal miner tipped the beams at only 209 for the West Springfield, Mass., bout. That's the lowest Baksi has scaled since he broke into the big time four years ago.

LOSING TO Tanberg's cost Baksi a title fight with Joe Louis. Baksi was said to have been far out of shape for that clash, weighing around 240 pounds. He contracted for the Tanberg bout after stopping Bruno Woodcock, English champion, in seven rounds in London.

Baksi, incidentally, stopped England's Freddie Mills in six rounds in November, 1946. Mills won the light heavyweight championship by defeating Gus Lesnevich in London the past July.

Lesnevich meets Jersey Joe Walcott, two-time loser to Louis, in a heavyweight elimination tilt at Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 21.

3 EX-CHAMPS ELIMINATED IN AMATEUR GOLF

Chapman, Bishop, Evans Beaten in 2d Round; Riegel, Stranahan Still Advancing

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 31 (AP)—King pins of Amateur golf fell like tenpins today as a wave of upsets rocked the second round of the 48th national tournament.

Three former champions — Dick Chapman, Ted Bishop, and Chick Evans — and one-time British titleholder Robert J. Sweeney Jr., were hustled to the sidelines as heat and pressure mounted on the seared Memphis Country club course.

The tourney's hottest tandem — defending champion Robert (Skee) Riegel of Monterey Park, Calif., and Toledo's Frank Stranahan, holder of the British and Canadian crowns — survived the upheavals although both were carried to the final hole.

Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., winner in 1939 and 1941, and Wee Willie Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., who captured the U. S. crown in 1938 and the British title in 1947, also came through to present a still solid front for ambitious youngsters striving to crack the "old guard."

RIEGEL FACES the most serious challenge yet to his reign tomorrow. He will meet Gene Dahlbender, Atlanta's long knocking Southern champion, in the morning. If successful, he may catch Johnny Dawson of Hollywood, Calif., in the afternoon.

Dawson, runner up to Riegel the past year at Delmonte, Calif., entered the third round with a 2 and 1 victory over George Trainer of Pittsford, N. Y.

Riegel, firing a 72 over the 6617-yard, par layout, eliminated Robert E. Clark of Edgewater, Okla., one up. He got off to a three-hole lead through six holes but had to call upon all his stroking wizardry to stand off the Westerner's stout rally.

STRANAHAN PREVAILED, one up also, over Charles B. Dudley, 1947 North-South champion of Greenville, S. C.

Chapman, the 1940 winner from Pinchurst, N. C., and Bishop, the 1946 titlist from Ishington, Mass., were shown the gate by a couple of youngsters playing in their first national.

Chapman was beaten by Richard L. (Bubba) Smart of Pine Bluff, Ark., 4 and 3. The 24-year-old Smart, who graduated from the University of Arkansas the past Spring, was one under par for the 15 holes.

Bishop was ousted by Don Spomer of Lincoln, Neb., one up. Spomer, a 20-year-old University of Nebraska junior, won the last three holes of the match.

Ashburn Sidelined For Rest of Season

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31 (AP) — Richie Ashburn, rookie outfielder of the Philadelphia Phillies, underwent a hand operation today in Temple University hospital.

Dr. John Royal Moore, who performed the surgery, said Ashburn would be out of the lineup for the rest of the National league baseball season.

The star rookie, who led the Phillies with a .333 batting average, broke two bones in his left hand while sliding into second base in a game at Pittsburgh Saturday.

Sophs Push Polidor For Starling Position

VILLANOVA, Aug. 31 (AP) — Bob Polidor, Villanova college scabback, is going to have plenty of competition this year to hold his varsity job.

Coach Jordan Oliver has been impressed with the early practice form displayed by a trio of sophomore ball toters — Mickey Frinzi, Phillipsburg, N. J.; Jackie Moran, New Rochelle, N. Y., and Johnny Geppi, Baltimore.

Good to Sponsor Cage Tournament On Outdoor Court

Local basketball players who want to get into shape early this year will get their chance next week when the first annual Outdoor Twilight Basketball tournament opens at the Kiwanis playground.

Ed Good, Pottstown High basketball coach, is organizing the tournament and will present a gold trophy to the winning team. Good is the sole sponsor of the event.

The Trojan coach said five teams have already expressed desire to enter the tournament. Good said he would like to have eight teams. The tournament will be organized at a meeting at the Kiwanis playground next Tuesday night. The meeting will start at 6 o'clock.

TEAMS INTERESTED in entering a team in the tournament are to have a representative attend the meeting.

There will be no entrance fee for the teams and everything will be free. Referees will donate their services, for they too want to get into shape. It will be a double elimination tournament. A team must lose two games before eliminated.

Good said teams must be of high school caliber or better. He said it wouldn't be fair if a small boys team would enter and would have to play a men's team.

All games will be played on a grass court at the Kiwanis playground. Two games will probably be played each night.

Landlady's Charges Send Man to Jail

Two men were ordered to serve sentences in the Montgomery county prison, Norristown, after hearings before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, in borough hall last night.

Augustus Clemens, 47, 21 North Penn street, was sentenced to 60 days in jail on disorderly conduct and drunkenness charges.

The accusations were brought by his landlady, Bessie M. Grissold, 21 North Penn street, who said her tenant had been drunk and disorderly on several occasions.

Clemens was arrested by Patrolman Thomas Corum at 12:50 p. m. yesterday and held in a borough hall cell until his hearing.

Kelley sent Stanley Drabinski, of Boone court, Penn Village, to 30 days in the county jail on charges of being drunk and disorderly.

Drabinski, who was arrested by Patrolman Harry Chrusch on High street between Hanover and York streets late yesterday afternoon, was accused of cursing the police where he was arrested and of insulting everybody generally in borough hall.

THE FORMER official also declared that Acheson's assistant, Alger Hiss, a key figure in the current spy probe, took a pro-Russian viewpoint and that he was "worried" about Hiss.

Hiss is now head of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. He has been described as a former leader of the pro-Red underground in Washington by Whitaker Chambers, self-styled former Communist, now a Time Magazine senior editor. Hiss has sweepingly denied Chambers' accusations.

Berle said he adhered to a group in the State department that felt the Russians were not going to be sympathetic or co-operative.

Berle testified that "Mr. Acheson's group" stood in opposite position to the State department in 1944 "when Mr. Hiss as his principal assistant in the matter."

He said his anxiety over Hiss stemmed back to 1939 when Chambers came to him with the story of the secret Red network in the nation's capital and he looked into the record of both Alger Hiss and his brother, Donald.

GALS COOL?

for sleep, only to suffer with the thought that "tomorrow" is another day and the "hardware" must again encase their figures.

MISS MADELINE PIFFER, of Royersford, a sales clerk in the coreset department of a local store, reported that just as many two-year-stretches were sold this summer as during the Winter months.

"The women refuse to try them on in the store because it's too hot," she reported, "but even if they did wear shorts to work, they wouldn't be any cooler because the majority of girls I sell to wear girdles under their shorts anyway."

As for herself, Miss Piffer thinks the styles are too pretty this summer to spoil the effect by wearing girdles to work.

"If everyone else wore them, I guess I'd break down too," she concluded.

"IT MIGHT divert attention from work . . . and not on my part, either," declared Miss Dorothy Kutz, 612 North Evans street, who is a receptionist for an optical company. But Miss Kutz agreed it others started the fad she might follow but "my legs are too skinny," she complained.

Completely reversing the accepted opinion that shorts are for women was Mrs. Ted Smith, 40 High street, who is a saleswoman in a local hat shop.

"I really think men look better in shorts for street wear than women do. I guess I'm just a slave to fashion, but I'd rather roast than come to work in shorts."

She confessed, however, that on Wednesday afternoon's her attire consists of a playsuit.

Dies Suddenly

Andrew A. Zhdanov (above), a member of the powerful Politburo and a founder of the Communist party, died yesterday in Russia. He was 52. There had been no indication to the public that Zhdanov was ill.

ZHDANOV DIES

many years chief of Russia's secret police, have generally been considered the chief candidates to take over when Stalin dies. Stalin is 68.

HIS MOST POWERFUL position was as a member of the Politburo and as secretary of the Russian Communist party, a post formerly held by Stalin.

The Moscow broadcast said his death was a "very great loss for the party and the whole Soviet people" and described him as a "very gifted propagandist of the great ideas of Lenin and Stalin."

His funeral will take place in Moscow's giant Red square at 5 p. m. Moscow time, Thursday. The broadcast said the body will lie in state in the hall of columns of the house of trade unions, where the public will be admitted beginning tomorrow night.

ZHDANOV, LIKE Stalin, was a Georgian. As secretary of the Communist party in Leningrad, he was believed to have committed the attack on Finland in the Winter war of 1939-40. The unsuccessful Soviet attack in its early stages caused a lapse in his prestige, but he bounced back in World War II when he sparked the successful defense of Leningrad against the Germans.

The past October, in Poland, he delivered the 14,000-word speech which called for a tightening of Communist discipline. It was this communist gathering that representatives from nine European nations organized the cominform.

Zhdanov's death came as Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia showed every sign of fighting to finish the cominform charges that he was not a true Communist and anti-Soviet.

Zhdanov was generally regarded as the leading spirit in the drafting of these charges against Tito.

HURRICANE

It was expected to grow in size and violence as it moved ahead, but was still not in the hurricane class.

Small craft in the leeward islands were warned to stay in port and all interests in the area were told to stand by for further advisories.

STORM NO. 1 plowed to within 110 miles of Cape Hatteras before making a definite retreat back out to sea. Squally winds up to 40 miles an hour were the strongest felt in the area where hurricane warnings flew for a time. The edge of the disturbance may cause strong winds along the mid-Atlantic coast as the storm passes 200 or more miles offshore.

Storm No. 2 already is causing squally weather in the Lesser Antilles around Martinique. The steamship Benjamin Greison told the weather bureau that she passed through winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour and extremely rough seas for seven hours ending at 10 o'clock last night. An advisory issued by the San Juan, Puerto Rico, weather bureau alerted the islands for a possible blow.

It would have been still higher, except that the early part of the past month was generally comfortable.

Figures of the Reading weather bureau show that up to Aug. 22, there was a total deficiency of 60 degrees, but the heat struck so sharply thereafter that August wound up with an excess of 30 degrees.

THIS MEANT THAT each day, on an average, was one degree above normal.

Otherwise, the past August was fairly well-behaved.

There were 5.15 inches of precipitation, a mere .94 above normal for the month, and 19 days were cloudy or partly cloudy.

Six thunderstorms added to the variety during August, 1948, and the breezes usually were quite mild, just as the weatherman expects them to be during the last full month of Summer.

Meanwhile the predicted cool air mass from Canada sent the last of the heat wave up in smoke yesterday. High temperature for the day was 79 and the mercury was scooting for the low 60's last night at midnight.

Fair with moderate temperature is the forecast for today and tomorrow with "rather cool" tonight, the weatherman predicted.

WENTZEL EVIDENCE

accused him of being paid to tell it, and then dismissed him permanently from the case.

5. Wojack did not testify or the defense because he was afraid to do so.

Dr. W. L. Franck, of 37 North B. Hanover street, who testified as a star witness for the prosecution that Mrs. Green's body had been dead about 12 hours when he saw it, has declared:

1. After the trial was over, he said publicly that he considered Wentzel's conviction "a gross injustice."

2. Dr. Franck said he has "very definitely changed my mind concerning the testimony that I had given formerly."

3. Dr. Franck believes now that "death could have occurred . . . as far back as Friday night, Dec. 6, 1946, or Saturday, Dec. 7, 1946. The complete text of the affidavits sworn to by Wojack and Dr. Franck will be found on Page Three.

In announcing these developments, Wentzel's co-counsel paid tribute to Kleinspehn, former Berks county chief detective who has been pursuing his own investigation on behalf of Wentzel's friends.

Rosenberry said yesterday afternoon as the affidavits and other reasons for a new argument were being prepared for mail.

"You betcha!" affirmed Heim, co-counsel with Rosenberry.

"Give all the credit to Kleinspehn," Rosenberry amended.

ALTHOUGH THEY were obviously pleased at being able to present the affidavits and other legal diplomacy by making no comment whatever on when the high court would reply to their petition, or what the court's reply would be.

"We will be very grateful, though, if they do permit re-argument," Rosenberry said with a quiet smile.

Kleinspehn, a gray-haired man who is 64, far more like a college professor than a detective, has lost one case and gained well over a thousand convictions during his career.

He began his own probe of the Wentzel case shortly after the Montgomery county judges, sitting en banc, rejected Wentzel's appeal for a new trial the past Spring.

Kleinspehn continued plodding quietly from one Pottstown home to another even after the 5-4 decision of the State Supreme court was handed down.

WHILE ROSENBERY and Heim carried on their legal battle, Kleinspehn interviewed Wojack and Dr. Franck. The stocky, black-haired ambulance driver signed his affidavit the past July 21. The elderly physician signed his affidavit the past Aug. 23, after he had recovered from an illness.

The petition bearing additional reasons also listed a number of technical points, charging that the majority of the evidence.

It also called pointed attention to the fact that the only other physician testifying about the time of death at Wentzel's trial was Dr. J. C. Simpson, coroner's physician, and that Dr. Simpson conceded that Mrs. Green's body might have been dead as long as 72 hours before it was found.

Wentzel now is in the Eastern penitentiary at Graterford, serving a ten-to-20 year term for second-degree murder.

PARKING BAN

metal signs are received, Sears said the police committee of borough council would have to approve such a plan.

He promised, however, that borough highway department crews would post the signs within two days after they are received.

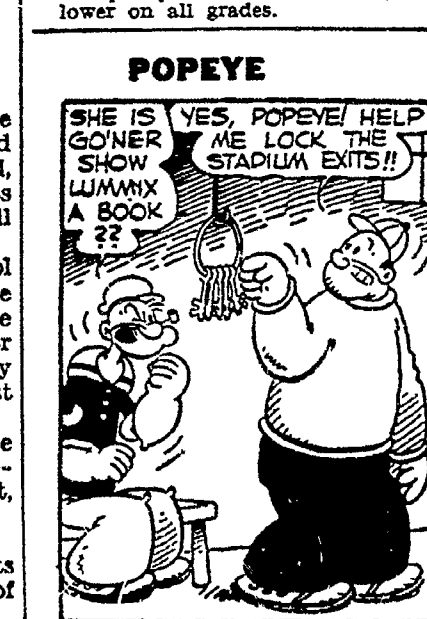

Several smaller orders for signs made prior to Aug. 16 have not been received either, Sears went on to say. He believed the difficulty in getting steel for their manufacture was responsible for the delay.

Vacationing Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR
The neighborhood kids were chattering in the local drug store, vocally hating the approach of school, and fondly reiterating praise for their vacation trips.

Phil Adelphi and Minnie Apolis had gotten married during the Summer, but they were going to finish the last year of school anyway.

Sue Sitty and Dee Troit had spent nearly two months working at the shore and had achieved a cocoa suntan, while Jack Sunvill and Red Ing had pedaled their bikes up to Canada.

Helena St. Paul sighed deeply at the thought of her tour through the New England states, while Chet Amooaga and Cal Amooaga recalled the fun they had on their old-fashioned camping trip.

Mild gossip floated about when Chick Awgo and Savannah Wheeling vacationed together at a mountain resort, while poor Betsy Moore couldn't find anyone to go with him anywhere.

Mary and Cleve Lund went out through the West with their parents and in one of the national parks, they bumped into Al Banny and Harris Berg who were out that way to visit their former schoolmate and girl friend, Oma Haw.

card from Molly, Betty, Jean and Edna, all of whom gave no local addresses, but wrote: "Having a swell time."

Mr. and Mrs. John McCrudden and daughter Phyllis, and son Dennis, Pottstown RD. 1, are spending their vacation in Toledo, O.

and enjoying it very much." A side and front view of Toledo university is pictured here.

Laura and Gertrude Ecker, who give no home address, are spending some time in Ocean Grove, N. J. "A very pleasant vacation here... there is no other place like it in the world." Great world renowned speakers fill the pulpit of the Methodist auditorium here, which has the largest organ in the world.

Fred G. Prizer Dies; Retired Caretaker At The Hill School

Fred G. Prizer, 65, of 70 North Adams street, a retired maintenance man at The Hill who had been a caretaker of the gymnasium for 40 years, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at his home.

He had retired when his health began to fail more than four years ago. Death came after a critical illness of nine days.

The husband of Rachel (Myers) Prizer for the past 37 years, Mr. Prizer was born in Pottstown and was a lifelong resident of the area, living on Walnut and Chestnut street and in Kenilworth before moving to Adams street nine years ago.

A short, heavy-set man, he was known to students at The Hill primarily as caretaker of the gym, although he had several other maintenance duties.

He was a keen baseball fan throughout his adult life and followed The Hill's teams closely.

MR. PRIZER was a member of First Methodist church, and also a member of Pottstown Nest 150, Fraternal Order of Orioles and of Excelsior Encampment 85, IOOF.

Surviving are his wife and six children: Harold, at home; Marian, wife of Ted Szymorski, of Coatesville; Stanley, of Sanatoga; Anne, wife of William Donahue, 287 Mast street, and Jack and Wayne, at home.

Also surviving are a sister, Margaret, wife of Walter Durham, of Villanova, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 404 High street. The Rev. Horace N. Olewiler, pastor of First Methodist church, will officiate, and interment will be made in Edgewood cemetery.
